

Alberta Liberal Leader With Nationally
Prominent Economist Broadcast at Economic Conference Close

By BILL BARNES,
Bulletin Staff Writer

CALGARY, Dec. 3.—Radio's magic, on Saturday night, enabled thousands by proxy to hear two outstanding speakers, direct messages to those Alberta homes from two fighting protagonists of "the security of the home and the welfare of the people." The speakers were Mr. W. R. Howson, M.L.A., Alberta Liberal leader, and Mr. G. G. McGeer, K.C., M.L.A., British Columbia's militant economist. They were speaking from the ballroom of Palliser hotel, packed and overflowing into night-dinner transfiguration which set Alberta Liberalism pulsing and tingling with new life, vigor and determined action. The result of the long day's deliberations was a "People's Platform" compiled from data personally gathered by all sections of the province, embracing all community and provincial problems and exuding an ardent optimism and a collective and individual determination for future action.

Despite the arduous day, both speakers were enthusiastic and vigorous, using no notes, talking freely and easily. Mr. Howson's topic was "Alberta," while Mr. McGeer's was "Western Return." Acknowledgments indicate that the speeches were heard over long distances with clarity of reception.

LEADER'S HAPPIEST NIGHT
Mr. Howson declared that the night was the happiest he had known since he returned to the province. The gathering was the climax or culmination of a work carried on for the last 18 months.

Dual Governments Reach Agreement on Europe Hot Spot

By ANDREW BERKING
ROME, Dec. 3.—The French and German governments today signed a complete agreement on all questions concerning the Saar basin territory. An official communique on the agreement, which was reached through the two nations' respective ambassadors in Rome, said it included not only the financial provisions of the territory but all other points.

It is to be presented Wednesday to the League of Nations council, the body charged with the government of the mining area. The pact was signed by Count de Chamberlain, ambassador of France, and Ambassador Ulrich von Hassell of Germany.

The official communique followed this promise: The last meeting of the Saar committee of three took place with the ambassador of France and Germany present. The president of the committee announced an agreement had been reached between the French government and the German government on all questions which were submitted to the examination of the committee.

It was learned on good authority that the final plan in the settlement is that if Germany wins in the January 13 plebiscite the agreement for the Saar coal mines, which the French government is proprietor, is to be collected. French francs circulating in the Saar, changing hands for them, and turning the francs over to France.

The round sum of 200,000,000 francs approximately $25,000,000 was understood, was agreed upon for this purpose.

Part of this sum also will be used in paying off private French credits in the Saar.

In the January plebiscite residents of the Saar will vote on whether to remain French or German. If France or Germany wins, the Saar will be returned to that country.

Ogpu Discovers Plot To Kill All Soviet Leaders At Same Time
LENINGRAD, U.S.S.R., Dec. 3.—Black-headed flags fluttered at half-mast throughout the Soviet Union Sunday in honor of the slain Sergei Kiroff, member of the all-powerful political bureau of the Communist party, while Communist workers clamored for vengeance against the plotters.

The dispatch said, in reporting the assassination of Sergei Kiroff, that the OGPU had discovered the plot and that the 10 officers were put to death within 24 hours.

Kiroff, right-hand man of Joseph Stalin, was shot by a former member of the OGPU, a Soviet secret police, in a rooming house in Leningrad.

No motive was assigned to the crime in the announcement, nor were Kiroff's political affiliations mentioned.

In the industrial centres of the country the grief and indignation of workers was freely manifested. Mourning meetings were held Sunday night at Leningrad, Moscow and Kharkov industrial plants, where workers on night shift adopted resolutions urging the suppression of elements hostile to the proletarian government.

Kiroff's funeral will be held Dec. 6 in Moscow, where his ashes will be buried under the wall of the Kremlin, near Lenin's tomb.

John Allsop, Neighbor of Trelle, Crowned at Chicago Show
CHICAGO, Dec. 3.—A new wheat king was crowned last night at the Hay and Grain show held with the International Livestock Exposition and again the laurel crown of the North American grain kingdom rested on the head of a Canadian—John R. Allsop of Wembley, Alta. His success gave Canada its twentieth victory in the 24 times the wheat crown has been awarded at Chicago.

Allsop's win brought Alberta's string of victories in the wheat acreage to eight compared with 11 for Saskatchewan and only one for Manitoba. The 1934 wheat crown contest has been able to produce a champion in the wheat-growing states.

Young Allsop farms with his father near Wembley, having gone to the district eight years ago with his parents from near Calgary. The 1934 wheat crown contest was held at the Hay and Grain show at Chicago last year.

Not only is Allsop the eighth world wheat king, but he is the first from the Wembley district. The prize for the wheat crown is $10,000.

lending price of Dominion Government and gilt-edged securities. Generally, however, these banks are to be commended for their judicious use of income from such investments, of which the Banks are holding increasing quantities—the holdings by all the chartered Banks of Dominion and provincial securities alone at the end of September, 1934, being over $710,000,000. The comparable figures for the two past decades being $361,000,000 in 1924 with only 11½ millions in 1914. The average rate of interest on the rate of return of from 1½ to 2% and even more on such a large proportion of the investments the Banks mean that the Banks are able to pay a more generous return to their depositors. The reaction in interest on deposits has not enabled us in some instances to reduce the rate of interest to induce the commercial accounts and thereby we hope stimulate business to some extent.

President and General Manager Address the Shareholders

The President has always been the establishment of the Bank of Canada and I fully concur in all he has said and know that the Government in its wisdom has decided about the establishment of the Bank. I am sure that we all know that the provisions of the Act of Incorporation are moderate and entirely satisfactory. I believe to the contrary. I also would like to associate myself with the remarks of Mr. Gowers regarding the selection of a Governor in the person of Mr. Graham Towers, which I have known for a number of years. The appointment to be an excellent one. Mr. Gowers assures me that the choice of Mr. J. A. C. Osborne as Deputy Governor is entirely satisfactory to him. Mr. Osborne is a man of the Bank of England should render him a most valuable assistant to Mr. Towers in the Bank of Canada working as we are concerned with every day co-operation, and we trust that the Bank of Canada will prove a real

SERVICE TO ALL.
In 1932 I told the Meeting that the policy of the Imperial Bank of Canada was to continue to give the very best service to all, and to bring to the widest extent consistent with safety—our services to our customers who were suffering honestly with adversity and in need of our sympathy to our friends and customers for whom the going was hard, with the endeavor always before us to keep business on the up and the farmer on the land. I repeat this is our policy today, and while it may for some time to come take some rebate of interest and in some cases a partial rebate on principal to those who are suffering I am satisfied that policy is a sound one and will be found the best in the long run. As a matter of fact we have already adopted it in some instances with satisfactory results.

BETTER TIMES COMING.

Last year I ventured the opinion to years ago when the prediction was made that the world's affairs were slowly emerging from the gloom of the depression. It is now ten years ago and I think that all of us will agree that the prediction was happy one and proved to be correct. It is true that business slowed up a little in the early part of the year, but it came back again and each time the waves came a little higher up the shore and while the time of waiting is wearying and tries our patience, I still am confident that the future holds many advantages in the world's affairs as we really are on our way to better times. Directors were re-elected as follows: J. M. McLean, President; J. F. Fischer, R. S. Waide, George C. Heinzeian, J. W. Hobbs, Walter C. Laidlaw, Arthur A. Newberry, A. E. Phillips, Henry E. Selzer, Winnipeg, George H. Smith, Minneapolis, and J. C. Smith, Gull, and W. B. Woods. Subsequently a meeting of Directors re-elected Frank A. Ralph President, Col. J. M. McLean, Vice President, R. She got up at 6 o'clock in the morning and always left the apartment by quarter to 7, sometimes earlier. She was gone all day, invariably. I don't know where she went or what she did."

"That's so," he said. "But it's not much of a description."

If the sense obligation is not planted in a child's heart early, it is almost impossible to set the "outlook" later—instead of the "inlook." There is such a thing as making the child too receptive, which would be easy to say to Jack, "I might need an errand done, or a little boy might need a walk." But she is too busy to go out." That, of course, is a return for favor but a sense of outward obligation.

we're all taught to write alike, there's a deadly sameness about every one's penmanship in our country. So why not have a little variety? It is really frightfully ordinary, you see. How should I go about it?"

H. S. SOPHOMORE

Answer—If there are "characteristics" in handwriting—which so winosakes doubt—it is unlikely that these will become apparent unless you're careful. In other words

You write a plain, readable hand, but, as you say, it is rather commonplace. Some students acquire new style of penmanship by following the handwriting of some admired model. Try a modification of the legal script, which retains plenty of individual character without any sacrifice of legibility.

WHEAT POOL ENVOYS URGE SETTLEMENT

Directors Recommend Against Proposals to Establish Newspaper

CALGARY, Dec. 3.—A "Harking back to 1906 when markets slumped and bad pool payments varied, delegates to the annual convention of the Alberta Wheat Pool today authorized their directors to exert every effort to settle, at least partly, the 1930 pool.

The situation brought about by the declining interest payments in 1930 has been brought before several annual meetings. First interim payment that year was 60 cents, followed by 50 and 50, the various causes an awkward situation that still hangs over the pool.

Directors recommended against a proposal to establish a newspaper in Alberta.

The meeting today heard Hon. M. J. Lymburn, Alberta's attorney general who brought the government's greetings. Daniel Kane, manager of the Manitoba Pool and M. M. Porter, K.C., pool solicitor, who explained legislation and set-up of the Natural Products Marketing Act.

See Tracy Pinch Hits For Thomas

By LEE TRACY

Written Exclusively for Edmonton Bulletin

THIS played enough reporters and columnists in my day in motion pictures to know that you have to wear your hat on the back of your head, let a cigarette drop from your mouth, carry a thick pad of copy paper in your pocket (and make it sometimes drop), and, not least, without stopping for breath.

But they forget to teach me one thing—how to write like a columnist. However, you don't have to read this unless you want to. And if you do, well, why worry about the impossible?

MAE SAYS "NAT"

Hot news! Flash! Mae West is trying to give the country back to the Indians! You'll see her looking all over for the Indian who posed for the United States penny. If the funds him, he gets a good job in her next picture. "Now I'm a Lady."

But here's the funniest part—Mae, who writes all her own pictures, always writes in bed. No kidding. She has her breakfast on a tray and then starts dictating to a secretary. I tried to get the job and she said, "I'm not a typist, you know."

FAST LANGUAGE

Here's something I want to get across. They're wrong when they call me the fastest talking man in pictures. I know a million of them. I mean, they only talk in pictures. I speak my words by following slow spaces with faster ones and the contract men get mad at me. Try it some time and you'll see what I mean!

"BUNDLING" IN LOVE

Hollywood has a new sport—"bundling." Of course, it isn't really a sport, because they're bundled in the colonial days. Paraphrasing a little bit, they're bundled in the colonial days. Paraphrasing a little bit, they're bundled in the colonial days.

ADAMANT LEE TRACY

In one saying you can address all future mail to "Admiral Lee Tracy." I've bought myself a little ship and I'm calling it "Admiral." In fact, I'm writing this on the "Admiral" anchored in the cove near Catalina Island. But I came over to see me about the column and I'm giving up good fishing time to do this. But then, you're giving up good reading time to read it, so we're even.

INTELLIGENT PRODUCER

Here's a man who always shows up the movie producer as an illiterate. He's a little bit of a fool, but he's not a little bit of a fool. He's a little bit of a fool, but he's not a little bit of a fool. He's a little bit of a fool, but he's not a little bit of a fool.

LORD RODNEY URGES PLAN OF IMMIGRATION

LONDON, Dec. 3.—Lord Rodney, who has written a Cotesmore Farm, Fort Saskatchewan, Alta., urged on several times from Montreal large-scale British immigration to western Canada.

Nearly half the population of the Canadian west was non-British in origin, he said, and "obvious remedy" was considerable immigration from Britain in the near future.

During his stay in England, Lord Rodney, whose full name is George Bridges Harley, Viscount Rodney, said he proposed getting in touch with existing Canadian and town voluntary migration committees and organizing other such committees.

Stock Is Shipped By Dry Sections

VICTORIA, Dec. 3.—The second lot of cattle bought by the government in the drought-stricken area was shipped from here this week, making a total of 14 carloads from this point. The first lot, which was not as acute as it was at first feared, but many farmers are still waiting to winter their stock.

Despite the fact a number of farmers have moved out of this district and settled on farms in the Okanagan, the wheat acreage in the Lake, Verity, Vernon and Dapp districts, the wheat acreage with many fish ponds and so on, all farms are being taken up immediately.

CORONATION, Dec. 3—Final shipment of cattle from this district was made on Wednesday, when eight carloads of cattle were shipped. On the same day Messrs. Cook and McKinnon shipped three cars of better grade cattle and a car of lambs.

like the idea, so, who knows, maybe for listening to my initial effort as a columnist. I think I'll be giving up movie-making for writing and let Dan Thomas take my place in my next picture. Be absent!

Six Orilla Women Are Attack Victims

ORILLIA, Ont., Dec. 3.—Renewed efforts to track down the unknown man who has attacked six Orilla women were made by police last night as they learned of the sixth victim. In the last two months the man has attacked the six women, two of them last Friday night and another Saturday.

Latest victim was Mrs. S. Draper who was seized when she left her home at 11 p.m. and was taken to a car in the yard. Police only learned of this attack last night. Mrs. Draper, explaining she "wanted to keep the matter quiet" and declared she "didn't see any point in informing the police."

The Debunker

This enormous tale certainly must have developed before the days of the radio, when the speaker was alone in the room, at great length, before opening their packages. But the tale is so long and so full of details that it is not possible to open it; otherwise they could not open it.

THIS BED WAS HIGHLIGHT OF MAE WEST'S NEW YORK APARTMENT—She moved it from her home in 1928 to use in her Broadway production of "Diamond Lil." Originally it belonged to "Diamond Jim" Brady. Mae was born in Brooklyn about 40 years ago. Her father was Jack West, boxer and theatre bouncer; her mother, a French Jewess. Mae received poor marks in school, made her stage debut at the age of 8 as "Little Eva" in "The Littlest Rebel." At 15 she was in vaudeville, doing shimmy and fan dances. She became a strong lady with an Arab acrobatic troupe, developed her figure lifting a 500-pound weight.

MAE HAS WRITTEN SEVERAL PLAYS, AND MUCH OF THE DIALOGUE IN HER MOVIES—For writing, producing and acting in her first play, "Sex," she spent ten days in a New York jail in 1927. She is pictured above in 1930, on trial for producing an "indecent" play ("Pleasure Man"), which she also wrote. In 1931 another of her plays, "The Constant Sinner," was banned in Washington, D.C.

Eskimo veterans in Edmonton on Saturday night when they last to Calgary by 5-2 score. . . First of the local clubs to start, the Eas had about 200 customers on hand to watch the contest, and it was the edge on off to a great extent by reason of the local loss. . . As generally expected, Art Gagne, first of the team's goals, while one of the pleasing features of the game was that Moev Rimstad and Bill Carse, former E.A.C. juniors, both broke into the scoring. . . Rimstad assisted in Gagne's goal, while Carse scored a great one unassisted.

Delays, the bane of any form of athletic sport, put somewhat of a crimp in Saturday's opening. . . Late in the pre-game, the game was again held up by the second and third periods, while the club house, delayed financial matters. . . Play was held up a little over 10 minutes, which never gave players of opening event.

Your old friends, Leroy Goldworthy, Ernie Kenny and Ken Robertson, appear to be making quite a show of the International League. . . In games of the weekend, Goldworthy, Blain, and Ken Robertson, who started the season with Blackhawk, into a regular, defensive berth with London and scored two goals and helped Oiler with one of his. . . Robertson former Eskimo, returned now with London, marked up another shutout for the Bulldogs as they defeated Detroit, Oiler, 1-0. . . All of which is quite a week-end work for the former Eskimo and Detroit boys.

Just when Robertson has to report to Seattle Seahawks is still uncertain, but Edmonton fans of the ice passion hope that he will not have to return to Seattle. . . He is making a great job of the goalkeeping with Windsor and it will be a shame if he is forced to come away from there.

The Junior Hockey League came off underway for another winter at the arena yesterday, the second round of play from nearly 1,000 through the Ruffo Club and the Pop Moon's 30th Siders gave the customers plenty of thrills in the opening Sunday afternoon game, with action, atmosphere and the fans' own enthusiasm.

Fans will get their first glimpse of the Edmonton Athletic Club juniors, 1934-1935 season, on Thursday night and the hope will be all piled up in the hope of the season. . . Instead of the familiar blue and white of the club's uniform, the players have been changed to black and white and they should make a real hit when they skate onto the ice.

With the pros and juniors already underway, the senior league teams start their season tomorrow, when Superiors and Varsity start their season. . . There is a possibility that later in the season there will be a league games with southern teams. . . In the opinion of Bill Wilson, general manager of the Calgary Herald, who was a visitor here on Saturday, the senior year before an inter-league league is organized.
